I find the succinct notes helpful to review and also as a preview to upcoming chapters before I have to dive into the more densely-written textbook. Not a waste for me at all. About the Author Having initially been a professor, I connect with and love teaching students on a daily basis. I also know from experience that college can be tough and money can often be an issue. Aside from money, time is also very precious to students in this fast-paced world. Students don't have the time to wade through walls of text and decipher pretentious terms to get to the point and understand what they are learning. Trying to help students utilize their time and money wisely motivated me to start publishing study guides. I am committed to providing my readers with books that contain concise and accurate information and I am committed to providing them tremendous value for their time and money. Business aside... I have a passion for living an active lifestyle. I am avid weightlifter who is fascinated with nutrition, human anatomy, and physiology. I also love travelling, reading, and I watch and play basketball whenever I can. I currently live in Boulder, CO with my wife and baby daughter. Thank you for reading!
